

POWER DOWN

for energy conservation

Power Down is a voluntary load reduction program that alerts participants when we are experiencing an energy peak, so they reduce their use of electricity. During a peak energy event, members are encouraged to avoid using appliances, adjust their thermostat by a few degrees, and turn off unnecessary items.

The alerts will only happen up to nine times during the months of June, July, and August and only up to four times during the months of December, January, and February. You can visit our website for more information on how the program works.
